GREENCASTLE IS A COLLEGE TOWN

A city of 7,228 inhabitants, Greencastle is located forty miles west of Indianapolis, five miles from U.S. Highway 40. The main lines of three railroads serve its fourteen industries. Tucked away in rolling west central Indiana, it is a small town where people live and work, and where young Americans dream and play and go to college.

SIXTY ACRES CONTAIN THE SCHOOL

With all its parts within ten minutes walking distance of each other, the DePauw campus occupies several tracts of land near the center of Greencastle. Dotted with trees and traversed by crosswalks, the expansive lawns were marred this year only by the scar of the new union building site. There construction work evoked quizzical smiles from detouring pedestrians.

JOHN HARRISON HALL

DEPAUW IS FIFTY-ONE ASSORTED BUILDINGS

Present physical features of the school include thirteen academic buildings, six residence halls, nine miscellaneous structures, and a string of thirteen fraternity and ten sorority houses. With buildings like East College and Harrison Hall, DePauw's plant is a mixture of the old and the new.

DEPAUW WORKS IN 120 CLASS ROOMS AND LABS

DePauw's academic buildings house several million dollars worth of equipment and over 107,000 reference volumes. Attending class thirty-five hours per week, students find facilities adequate for use in most of the 611 courses offered by the university.

ITS PEOPLE ARE VARIED, MANY,

A part of DePauw's personality is its people: 1950 students, 163 professors and officials with 360 degrees, 159 employees, and 15,000 alumni listings—17,272 individuals.

HERE TRADITIONS GROW AND THRIVE

DePauw does some things merely because they have been done before. Since 1837 modes and manners have changed; new buildings, new educational practices have appeared. But part of the school is the same.

DEPAUW IS AN EDUCATIONAL IDEA

Not a large school and not a small school, DePauw faces some of the problems of each. Offering as broad a curriculum as possible in this unique position, the institution attempts to afford students a preparation for effective living. Town, physical plant, equipment—all are used by administration and faculty in a characteristic, sometimes traditional, manner to provide a liberal education.

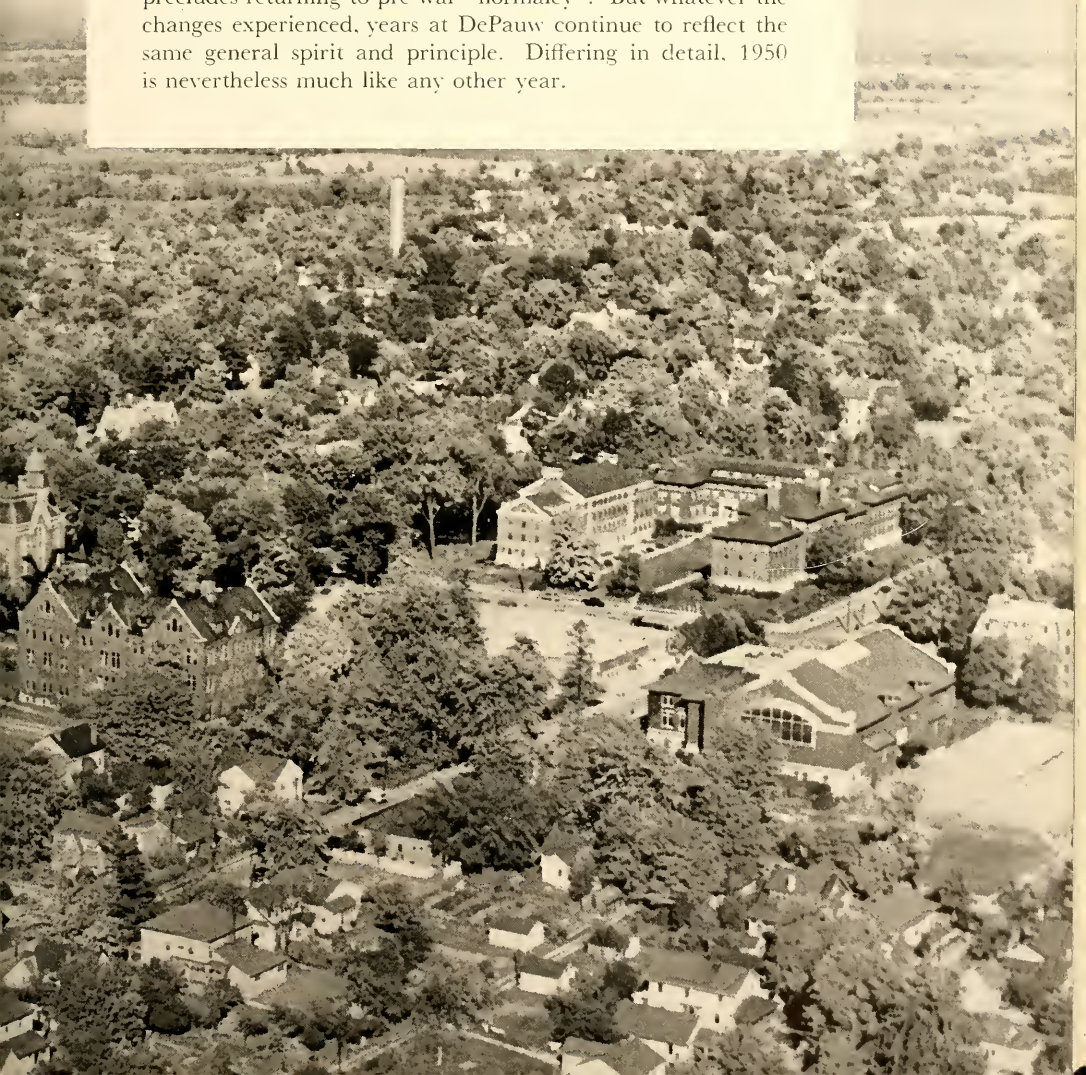
DEPAUW

DePauw at mid-century is a DePauw in transition. With the largest graduation list in its history, the school faces probable enrollment fluctuations and a definite drop in the student age-level. It must meet the fact that the past turbulent decade precludes returning to pre-war "normalcy". But whatever the changes experienced, years at DePauw continue to reflect the same general spirit and principle. Differing in detail, 1950 is nevertheless much like any other year.



COLLEGE BOTANY

WILDMAN COMPLETES FOURTEENTH YEAR

Clyde E. Wildman was graduated from DePauw in 1913. He received his S.T.B. and Ph.D. from Boston university. Cornell College presented him with a Doctor of Divinity degree in 1927. Fourteen years ago he returned to DePauw as president.

BOARD OF TRUSTEES SHAPES DPU POLICY

DePauw University's charter provides for a Board of Trustees to direct the school. The board is primarily concerned with the business interests of the college but it is also responsible for the selection of faculty and administration members. The trustees make the final decisions on all major university problems.

The membership of the board never exceeds 48 and each member is selected to serve a three year term. The Indiana conference of the Methodist church elects 30 members, the DePauw alumni choose four, and the others are elected by the trustees upon recommendation by the university president.

The board meets three times a year: Old Gold day, in February, and commencement weekend.

Because a large majority of the board members are chosen by the Methodist conference, and since such a majority actually controls the policies of the school, DePauw is known as a Methodist university.

CUMINGS COORDINATES UNIVERSITY AFFAIRS

Dr. Edgar C. Cumings, dean of the university, holds the position second in command to that of university president. He may well be called the guardian of academic standards, for his office handles all matters concerning university courses and also serves as coordinator of faculty affairs.

The former president of Canterbury College, Dr. Cumings graduated from Indiana University in 1931 and earned his Ph.D. at the University of Chicago in 1936.

DR. LAWRENCE RIGGS

Dr. Lawrence Riggs, dean of students, is in charge of the service program for DePauw students and faculty. His office supervises veterans' affairs, their part-time employment, and housing and counseling services.

Dr. Riggs acts as personal counselor to all students at DePauw.

MISS LUCILLE SCHEUER

Now in her second year as assistant dean of students, Miss Lucile M. Scheuer serves as general counselor, advisor to various women's organizations, and co-supervisor of the social calendar.

Miss Scheuer holds degrees from Mount Holyoke College and Columbia University and had received personnel training at Northwestern University.

ROBERT H. FARBER

Robert H. Farber is assistant dean of students, director of the Rector Foundation, and head of the Placement Bureau.

He received his A.B. from DePauw and his M.A. from the University of Chicago. This year at Indiana University he began work for his doctorate.

BROOKS: COMPTROLLER

Mr. Howell H. Brooks, comptroller, is kept busy with his financial duties. After receiving his B.A. degree from DePauw in 1929, he worked with various business concerns before returning to the university 15 years ago to accept his present position.

KUNTER: REGISTRAR

After receiving her B.A. degree from DePauw, Veneta Kunter, university registrar, began her work in the administration building. Her responsibility entails keeping files on each student's academic record and taking care of all petitions, trial programs, credits, and transcripts.

DOBBS: HEALTH SERVICE

Dr. O. R. Dobbs, health service director, has been certified by the American Board of Otolaryngology since 1929. A graduate of St. Louis University Medical School, he became DePauw's university physician last year after serving six years in the Naval Reserve.

CROUCH: ALUMNI

As alumni secretary and executive secretary of DePauw, Mr. Robert E. Crouch is responsible for keeping in touch with graduates, for directing the annual solicitation for the alumni fund, and for publishing the official magazine, The Alumnus.

UMBREIT: ADMISSIONS

Mr. Willard Umbreit, secretary of admissions is responsible for the promotion of student admission to DePauw University. His office maintains public relations with secondary schools, parents, and students. He makes extensive visits to high schools, giving advice to prospective college students.

WARD: NEWS BUREAU

To publicize the accomplishments of DePauw students is the duty of the publicity director, Mr. James Ward. By having complete files of all home town publications and by keeping in close contact with student activities, he is able to send out information concerning the achievements of each person.

STUDENT GOVERNMENT WAS STILL WITH US

Laboring at issues and belaboring points, the Student Governing Board and Student Faculty Committee served out their terms of office under student body president Laddie Luljak this year.

Besides its regular authorized duties the Student Governing Board carried on special projects. Polls were taken at DePauw and other schools to learn student reaction to various subjects. As a result of the surveys of the DPU campus, a referendum was evolved to replace one of the freshman representatives on the Student Faculty Committee with the defeated candidate for student body president.

The two main social events sponsored by the board were the "Hobo Hop" in the fall and the athletic banquet in March. Both of those events were made annual events last year and attained a modicum of success this year.

The Student Governing Board also had its regular functions to carry out. It appointed the head cheer leader, three members for the Publications Board, a representative for the Little Theatre Board and recommended candidates for the Committee on Discipline and for the Faculty-Student Committee on chapel. In addition to those appointments the board set up the social calendar for the year and acted as general overseer with regard to the other student organizations on campus.

The Student Faculty Committee worked in cooperation with the Governing Board by attending to the petitions and suggestions set up by the students. The main function of the committee was to have final authority in matters concerning all campus clubs, fraternities, and activities. Since students and faculty members were on the Student Faculty Committee there was fair representation from both sides.

CLASS OF 1950 CLAIMS FOURTEEN GOLD KEY MEN

In 1927 DePauw initiated the practice of honoring campus leaders. The organization was then Blue Key; and former dean Louis Dirks, Dr. R. W. Pence, and Dr. W. W. Carson were among the faculty charter members. Though the organization's name was changed to Gold Key in 1939, invitation into this exclusive circle remains one of the highest honors to which a DePauw man may aspire.

After careful consideration, the graduating members of Gold Key select those men of the junior class whom they believe to be the outstanding campus leaders. The new members are chosen on the basis of their scholastic records, their leadership in activities, and their character. Their names are not revealed until Recognition Chapel when the unique ceremony of "tapping" the junior group takes place.

Each year two or three professors and administrators are invited to add their names to the Gold Key roll. Several members of the faculty and the administration earned their keys during their student days at DePauw.

The organization exists primarily as an honorary, but once each month the group holds a social meeting at the different houses to discuss and attempt to solve current campus problems. Sporting their hickory canes, the members can be found sitting as a body at the Old Gold Day football game.

No particular fields of endeavor are held by Gold Key as criteria for election. Instead, each year a cross section of campus activities is represented in the group. Leaders in athletics, forensics, publications, student government, religious groups, and all other phases of student life have been included in the organization. Four years of successful labor is the only ticket for admission into Gold Key.

MORTAR BOARD CAPS 9 WOMEN ON MAY DAY

Each year the May Day Breakfast proves to be the high point for the junior women. It is then that Mortar Board's senior members, wearing their black robes and caps and singing the traditional "When Mortar Board Goes Capping," choose their successors from the girls of the junior class.

Founded at Syracuse University in 1918, Mortar Board now has eighty-two chapters throughout the country. DePauw has claimed the eighth chapter since 1919. The organization was designed to include those women students who have proved themselves outstanding through their leadership in activities, their scholarship, and their service to the schools which they attend. Dr. Virginia Harlow, Mrs. Edna Taylor, and Dr. Winona Welch are the faculty members and advisors of the DePauw Chapter.

Though Mortar Board is essentially an honorary, the group in the familiar blue corduroy jackets and gray skirts meets each Thursday to study campus problems and to try to stimulate action among the student body. Old Gold Day finds Mortar Board's members spending a gruelling morning blowing up the yellow victory balloons that are sold to the alumni and students at the football game. The proceeds from all the money-making projects go toward a scholarship awarded to some deserving girl student.

In November the Mortar Board chapters from Indiana University, Purdue, and DePauw held a State Day at Purdue. Problems of the campus and the community were topics considered by the three groups in a panel discussion. In the fall the men of Gold Key added a social touch to the Mortar Board activities by holding a banquet for the feminine campus luminaries. Retaliation came in the spring when the women treated Gold Key to a picnic.

ALPHA LAMBDA DELTA

Phi Beta Kappa

In 1776 William and Mary College saw the birth of the Phi Beta Kappa fraternity. Originally a social organization, Phi Beta Kappa developed as the outstanding national scholastic honorary.

The organization has limited its chapter roll to colleges and universities with schools of liberal arts. Today some one hundred and twenty chapters have been established through out the country. In 1889 DePauw became the first Indiana school to have a chapter. Since the founding of Phi Beta Kappa at DePauw more than seven hundred students have joined the chapter's ranks.

Alpha Lambda Delta

Alpha Lambda Delta is an honorary fraternity for freshman women who have made a 2.5 average. Each fall its members serve at the tea given by President and Mrs. Wildman for freshmen; in the spring they guide prospective freshman women about the campus during Scholarship Weekend. At recognition Chapel this year Alpha Lambda Delta presented honor certificates to senior women with a cumulative grade average of 2.5.

Phi Eta Sigma

Phi Eta Sigma, the national scholastic honorary, includes freshman men with averages half A, half B or better for the first semester or year. Conducting tours during scholarship week-end or orientation week, encouraging scholarship through the distribution of pamphlets, and sponsoring lectures on study habits are the organization's major activities. Dean Farber and Howard Downs are the faculty and senior advisors respectively.

PUB BOARD GUIDES STUDENT EFFORTS

Composed of both faculty members and students, the Publications Board has the responsibility of supervising the workings of the DePauw, the Boulder, and the Mirage. The six professors and the six students, with President Wildman serving in an ex officio capacity, discharge their duties through four committees. To each of the student publications is attached a committee to oversee and advise. The fourth committee, the elections committee devotes all of its time and energy to the sizeable task of filling the positions on the editorial and business staffs. General financial guidance and assistance is provided by Mr. Clarke Arnold.

Each year the Student Governing Board elects three juniors to the Publications Board for two-year terms, and faculty members are chosen by the faculty for staggered three-year terms. Although one seldom hears of its activities, the board does much to maintain free expression of student thought and to better the faculty-student relationships.

Photographing everything from visiting clergymen to shapely legs, the student photographers provided most of the pictures used by the three student publications. The manager, Jack Baker, was appointed by the publications board and had the task of hiring, training, and organizing his five-man staff.

Over 700 photographs were taken for the Mirage alone; the two other publications purchased several hundred more. In the fall the staff cheerfully photographed all of the freshmen women for the freshman date-book issue of the Boulder and all of the pin-up shots for that magazine. The cameraman raced along the sidelines getting shots of football games, dodged referees for basketball photos, and balanced precariously on the edge of the pool to get the tankmen in their plunges. Date night for them meant taking their girls and their cameras—the girls served to bear film packs, flash bulbs, and a tripod.

THE MIRAGE MIRRORS DEPAUW IN 1950

The Mirage, listed by many people as one of their activities, worked as a fairly small, compact organization again this year. Work on the 1950 annual actually began in April 1949 when the pictures of the spring sports and the Mother's Day activities were taken.

Throughout the following summer plans for the make-up of the new book were refined and completed so that the duties of the staff were clearly defined when September came. Then began the annual campaign to woo workers away from the DePauw and the Boulder. Eager freshmen and the sophomores coveting the assistant editors' jobs trotted down campus every Saturday morning to mark the photographs for the engraving company, index everyone from Abbott to Zimmermann, type the ambitious lists of senior activities, and identify all the saccharine smiles in the photographs.

After the professional photographer had returned the panel portrait pictures, the clubs and honoraries began filing through the office each night in their pilgrimage for Photographic Immortality. The copy editor and and the rewrite men shredded their staff writers' stories like demoniacal freshman comp teachers. By June the molehill had completed its labor and the mountain named Mirage had been produced.

THE DEPAUW COVERS CAMPUS EVENTS

The DePauw is published three times weekly, providing a laboratory for people planning to make journalism their career. It also serves as an extra-curricular activity for students who are not necessarily interested in professional journalism.

The organization of The DePauw follows the lines of a professional newspaper. Reporters gather the news and send it in written form to the copy and rewrite editors. The copy and rewrite staffs prepare the material for the printers. Final examination of the type before printing and distribution is left to the proof editor and his staff. The workings of the editorial staffs are under the direction of the editor-in-chief and his three assistant city editors. Each of the three city editors is responsible for the publication of one of the issues. Working with the editors and the men of the photography staff, the art editor has the job of planning the pictures and engravings.

The business manager is charged with the task of keeping The DePauw financially stable. Circulation and advertising provide most of the revenue that pays for the weekly publication of some six thousand papers. Advertising for each of the three editions is handled by an assistant manager.

ALPHA DELTA SIGMA

Sigma Delta Chi

Alpha Chapter of Sigma Delta Chi, national professional journalistic fraternity, continued its customary activities with a series of meetings featuring leaders in the field of journalism, including publisher Bennett Cerf and author Richard Llewellyn.

As in previous years the men of SDX sponsored the annual Showdown competition; they also published a special issue of the Boulder and presented a trophy to the outstanding scholar-athlete of the senior class.

Theta Sigma Phi

A national fraternity for women in journalism, Theta Sigma Phi pledged nine at the Boulder on Old Gold day morning.

Continuing to meet regularly with women active in journalism, the Theta Sigs heard Ruth Reynolds of Indianapolis station WIRE speak on "Radio as a Profession or Hobby."

Alpha Delta Sigma

Named for the reknowned pioneer huckster, the Walter P. Cole chapter of Alpha Delta Sigma continued to attempt the solution of various advertising problems.

Emphasizing practical experience, its members worked with local merchants in trimming windows and in decorating the Greencastle square for the Yuletide season.

DELTA SIGMA RHO

Debate Teams

Activities of DePauw's debate teams centered around the question "Resolved: that the United States should nationalize basic non-agricultural industries."

With this topic the squad competed in the national forensic conference at Purdue with Ohio State, Army, Navy, Notre Dame, Wisconsin, and Florida, earning third place with a 5-3 record.

Coached by Mr. Forrest Seal, the team also participated in the Lincoln-Douglas tournament at Galesburg, Illinois; the Oxford debate at DePauw; the University of Illinois tournament at Chicago; and a two-day meet at Bowling Green State University.

The freshman debate team also showed promise by finishing the year with an impressive record, including five wins against Butler and Indiana.

Delta Sigma Rho

An honorary for students with outstanding ability in debating and public speaking, Delta Sigma Rho again sponsored its annual invitational tournament held on this campus.

Now in its thirty-fifth year at DePauw, the organization continues to stress high scholarship along with speaking talent.

DUZER DU

Radio Workshop

Converted this year into a training organization for FM station WGRE, the radio workshop instructed underclassmen in the techniques of dramatic production and announcing.

In addition to supervising radio productions, the workshop traveled to other towns to present their programs over local stations.

Epsilon Pi Alpha

A radio nonorary founded at DePauw in 1947, Epsilon Pi Alpha continued to work to develop professional interests in all phases of radio work.

Composed of students outstanding in radio on the campus, the organization this year sponsored an announcing contest in cooperation with radio station WGRE. Serving as president was Ralph Scheu; Dr. H. T. Ross was faculty adviser.

Duzer Du

DePauw's dramatic honorary, Duzer Du, inaugurated a new practice this year with the presentation of a trophy to the most outstanding student in the field of dramatics.

The thirty-six members of the organization also sponsored trips to Indianapolis for DePauw theater-goers.

WGRE ENDS FIRST YEAR OF OPERATION

Catering to students and Greencastle residents, DePauw's FM radio station WGRE resumed operation on Oct. 1.

The station offered a complete schedule of broadcasts, including music, women's shows, high school programs, dramatic presentations, news and sports programs, interviews, discussions, and broadcasts of all of the Tigers' home athletic contests.

Dr. H. T. Ross and Miss Elizabeth Turnell served as faculty advisers to the station.

LITTLE THEATRE OFFERS 6 PLAYS

Little Theatre audiences witnessed six plays this year over the footlights of the Speech Hall stage.

The productions included "She Stoops to Conquer," "The Corn is Green," "Trial by Jury," "Down in the Valley," and "I Remember Mama." The Little Theatre also sponsored Chris Hamilton's original "The Children."

The Little Theatre board appointed Catie Mattson and Martin Graves co-business managers for the year. Assisted by junior business managers Elsie Manny and Diane Forst they directed ticket sales, program printing, and the selection of ushers.

The opera workshop also employed the Little Theatre facilities for their spring production of Verdi's "La Traviata."

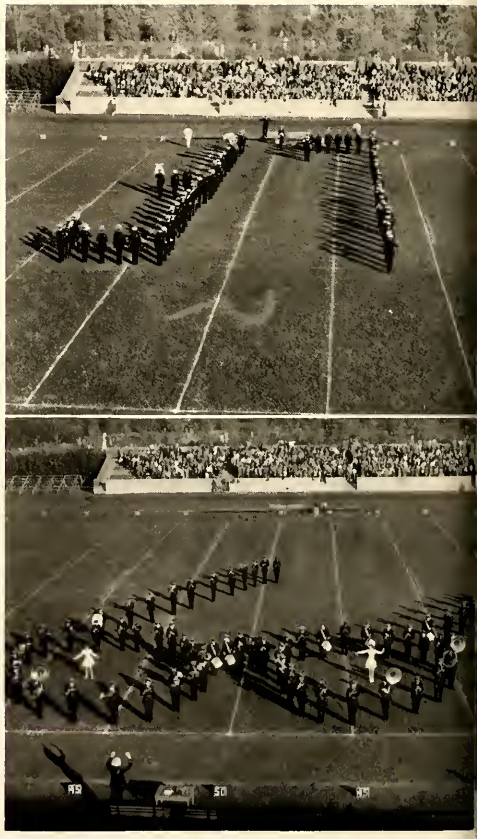
BAND SEEN AT GAMES, HEARD IN 3 CONCERTS

Prof. Franklin P. Inglis, director of DePauw University bands, has served in this capacity for the past six years. He received his B.A. and M.A. from the Eastman School of Music and taught at Murray State college before coming to DePauw in 1944.

Drum Majorettes

Guiding the DePauw marching band through its formations this year was Lillian Beaumont, who previously served three years as a drum majorette. She also found time to participate in the Spex football rallies and in the Chicago baton twirlers' exhibition. In 1946 her skill won her the Indiana state baton title.

Selected in early fall tryouts, Irene Koebke and Eva Jo Miller marched as drum majorettes with the band at all home football games. High-stepping in white leather boots and abbreviated satin uniforms, the girls twirled their batons to any march or specialty number played during halftime activities. Irene served her second year as majorette, while Eva Jo twirled for the first time before DePauw fans.



Right, above: The DePauw band forms "LF" for Lake Forest on Dads' Day and (below) provides Tiger football fans with spectacles.

The Depauw University band presented three concerts in Meharry hall during the year. Highlights of the program on Feb. 16 were Bach's "Toccata and Fugue in D Minor" and the first two movements of Chausson's symphony.

The eighty-member group also made a three-day tour through Indiana and Illinois and offered one chapel program. In the spring they presented their annual series of three outdoor evening concerts.

ORCHESTRA HAS FULL SCHEDULE, TAKES TOUR

Conductor Herman Berg and assistant conductor Albert Fiorillo directed the DePauw University symphony orchestra in five scheduled concerts this year.

Four of the programs featured soloists, while the fifth consisted entirely of solo selections. Besides performing for chapel programs, radio broadcasts, and special children's concerts, the orchestra took a tour through Indiana towns in March.

Without faculty aid the members of the orchestra chose much of the concert music, conducted their tour, and published a newspaper, the Score. Officers of the orchestra were Irving Weinstein, president; Dale Ducommun, business manager; and James Zartman, publicity chairman.

Herman C. Berg, professor of violin and director of the university symphony orchestra, came to DePauw in 1933. Graduating from Kansas State Teachers College with a B.S. in 1931, Professor Berg took advanced work at the Eastman School of Music. He studied under Louis Persinger during the summers of 1935 and 1937. DePauw awarded him his M.Mus in 1936.

Right: Mr. Berg holds an after-concert session with assistant conductor Albert Fiorillo and clarinetist Ed Casassa.

CHOIR OFFERS VARIED PROGRAMS, TOURS

Clad in new wine robes encircled by the traditional knotted gold cords, the University Choir, directed by Prof. George Gove, again inspired the campus with its singing. Practicing every Tuesday and Thursday and accompanied by Don Pfost, the sixty choir members who attended either the Liberal Art College or the Music School have added many new selections to their repertoire but still enjoy performing their favorite stand-bys, "A Mighty Fortress Is Our God" and "Ezekial Saw de' Wheel," on choir tours.

Forty selected choir members took several tours this year including two fall trips, one to Marion and Kokomo and the other to Muncie and Newcastle, and the spring tour through Indiana, Ohio, and New York during the vacation period. Selections sung on these trips include a variety of songs from old Latin hymns to Negro spirituals. The choir prepared its largest program of the year in March when it sang at the North Methodist Church in Indianapolis under the sponsorship of the Indianapolis Alumni Association.

Not only has the choir become an integral

At Christmas time it presented a program of selections from The Messiah, and seasonal songs, and in February it joined with the Choral Union to sing Verdi's Requiem. Not without its social activities, the choir enjoyed a Christmas party at the Fluttering Duck after making a recording for a fifteen minute radio program This recording of the University Choir was transcribed over the N.B.C. network on Christmas morning.

In 1898 at the New England Conservatory of Music, Phi Mu Alpha, the national music honorary for men, was founded, and in 1911 the Lambda chapter was formed on the DePauw campus.

In order to qualify for membership in the organization, men from either the School of Music or the College of Liberal Arts must have at least a sophomore standing and high scholastic ratings.

Each year the members, assisted by their faculty adviser George Jacobson, organize and present a concert of contemporary works by noted American musicians.

Mu Phi Epsilon is the national music honorary for women with a junior or senior standing and for those underclassmen with superlative scholarship.

The qualifications for membership in the organization are scholastic standing and unusual musical ability. New members to the group are elected by both the members of Mu Phi Epsilon and the faculty of the music school.

In addition to their picnic with Phi Mu Alpha, the organization annually sponsors a pledge recital, brings noted and talented artists to the campus for concerts, and gives an award to the outstanding girl in the Greencastle High School.

DePauw has the distinction of having one of the two college chapters of the American Guild of Organists.

This professional fraternity offers to its members the chance to take examinations which when passed merit a degree for musical attainment. The DePauw chapter is under the leadership of Dr. Van Denman Thompson. At each meeting several members play organ selections which are followed by talks and discussions of interest to organ lovers.

The DePauw members have started a library of books concerning the organ; they plan to make additions to this library a Guild project each year.

CHAPELS REFLECT DEPAUW TRADITION

Seen from the balcony of Gobin church is Dr. Norris speaking at a Wednesday morning chapel. Chapels are held here each Wednesday at 10:00 A.M. President Wildman, members of faculty, and guest ministers speak on religious topics of their own choosing. Music is provided by the university choir.

RELIGIOUS COUNCIL REPRESENTS CHURCHES

The main purpose of the Council on Religious Life is to coordinate religious programs and encourage religious activities at DePauw.

It is comprised of representatives of the denominational and religiously affiliated campus organizations. During Religious Evaluation Week, Thomas S. Kepler from Oberlin led the religious thought and discussion among the various student living groups.

As a new project, the council sponsored the presentation of an Easter pageant, "Thine is the Power," and, in conjunction with the university, handled the raising of funds for a Japanese university.

Although the council changed the title of its mimeographed information bulletin from the static Mark to the dynamic Quest, there was no discernable increase in its editorial pulse beat. Financed by a private benefactor, Quest mixes cracker-barrel religious philosophy with Methodist Publishing House boiler-plate. News briefs by reporters from local religious groups provide information about what is doing in the old church kitchen.

The Methodist Student Movement emphasizes everyday Christian living and Christian thought at DePauw.

On Sunday evenings the members hear off-campus speakers or participate in panel discussions of religious significance. MSM put on two plays this year: "What Men Live By" and "He Came to His Father." On Saturday evenings the high school students of Greencastle came to the canteen sponsored by MSM in the basement of Gobin church.

A cabinet of fourteen members governs MSM and directly sponsors a freshman banquet each fall and the MSM barn parties at Bowman Gym.

The members of Oxford Fellowship are the pre-theological students who avail themselves of the opportunity provided by this organization to become better acquainted with each other and with the various phases of ministry they are entering.

To accomplish this purpose they invited to their meetings speakers, including Dr. L. W. Norris and District Superintendent Rev. Buel Horn, to discuss. As a service project they conducted a book drive to send books overseas.

They ended the year with an ice cream social as a farewell to those students going on to theological school.

Dr. L. W. Norris explained why a Christian should be a well-rounded person. Mrs. W. J. Blanchard, state president of the Ohio League of Women Voters, attempted to answer the question "Can Politics Be Christian?"

The year was concluded by the annual dinner meeting at the home of the faculty sponsor, Dr. O. L. Davis.

FORMER SCOUTS SERVE IN APO

Service to the nation, to the community, to the school, and to themselves is the four-fold purpose of Alpha Phi Omega, men's national scouting fraternity.

They fulfill this purpose by acting as assistant leaders of local Boy Scout troops and assisting in Greencastle Teen Town activities. They sponsored the second annual Greenbar Scouting Conference, extending an invitation to all scout masters and patrol leaders of the Wabash Valley Council.

APO was the sparkplug at DePauw in the March of Dimes and the Red Cross drive, which featured the ugly man contest.

DELTA PHI ETA AIDS SCOUTING

The meetings and activities of Delta Phi Eta, national honorary women's scouting fraternity, are designed to keep alive the interest of college women in scouting work and ideals.

Evidence that this objective is accomplished are the members who go into professional scouting after graduation. The organization's main activity, which is also its most useful one, is participation in Greencastle's Girl Scout program. Members over twenty-one may have troops under their own leadership, while the others act as assistant troop leaders in singing, folk dancing and hiking.

SPEX STIMULATES SCHOOL SPIRIT

Spex consists of two sophomore representatives from each of the men's living groups on campus.

Though Spex has been in existence for only two years, it has done much to stimulate spirit and attendance at games by sponsoring and arranging pep rallies and by providing transportation to those games away from DePauw.

Spex has worked in close collaboration with the Student Governing Board. The two organizations have combined to choose the cheer leaders, and the sophomore group has assisted the board in the planning and preparation of the "D" Association Banquet also.

Since 1946 the Young Republicans' Club at DePauw has carried on an active program of informing the students of the functions, aims, and platform of the Republican party.

Each year the club invites party notables to the campus to discuss political issues. This year Philip Willkie, son of the 1940 presidential candidate and a representative in the Indiana state legislature, visited DePauw and delivered an address on the future of the Republican party.

Roundtable discussions of political problems over WGRE and informal meetings at the various houses have aroused party interest among college groups.

ALPHA KAPPA DELTA HONORS SOCIOLOGISTS

Though the organization has been at DePauw for only three years, Alpha Kappa Delta, the national sociology honorary, has steadily increased its number of activities.

The group, in collaboration with the Toynbee Club, brings noted speakers to the campus. This year Mr. Howard Davis visited the campus at Alpha Kappa Delta's invitation and discussed drug addiction before students enrolled in sociology courses. In the spring the members of Alpha Kappa Delta made field trips to the nearby state mental and correctional institutions.

The organization offers closer professor-student relations and a more extensive study of sociological problems.

Sociology students have a common interest in Toynbee, the sociology club which is named in honor of Alfred Toynbee, the prominent English sociologist.

This year's agenda included a personal presentation of social conditions in Austria by Ursula Glaeser, a DePauw student from that country. Mr. H. H. Petty of the government employment service at Terre Haute was invited to discuss employment problems, and Mr. R. T. Oldham of the sociology department explained to the members a field study made by him of social groups in a small town.

DEMOCRATS FORM JACKSON CLUB

The Jackson Club, organized on campus last year, strives to hold the interest of young Democrats in the Democratic party, and it keeps them informed on the national policies and functions of the party.

Programs consisted of discussions, forums, and speeches given by Democrats prominent in state politics. At one of the first meetings Mrs. Jane Noble Luljak, a DePauw graduate, told about her experiences in the Indiana legislature.

Top Row: C. Sutton, J. Light, J. Morris, J. Keene, E. Delves, J. Butler, D. Stevens, J. Zechiel.

PI SIGMA ALPHA STUDIES POLITICS

The purpose of Pi Sigma Alpha, the national political science honorary, is to stimulate and foster interest in politics and government, among the DePauw groups. Pi Sigma Alpha stipulates that its members be political science majors and that they must have maintained a B average in their major and an over-all average of C.

At each meeting the members present papers dealing with current political issues. Faculty members, government administrators, and politicians are invited to speak about timely and pertinent administrative problems.

This spring Pi Sigma Alpha initiated fourteen new members.

Bottom Row: J. Spore, Sec'y-Treas., S. Day, B. Colbrunn, Pres., J. Wilcox, T. Shively.

FOREIGN RELATIONS INTEREST IRC

The International Relations Club studies world political problems and discusses the relations of the United States with other countries. The DePauw organization is affiliated with the Carnegie Foundation for World Peace.

One of the outstanding programs was "Crisis in World Trade," at which Mr. J. O. Waymire, secretary-treasurer of the Eli Lilly company in Indianapolis, spoke on "Problems in World Trade," and Dr. V. J. Wycoff, of the DePauw Department of Economics, talked about the financial dilemma which Europe is facing. In March at a meeting open to the campus, Hans Morgenthau from the University of Chicago spoke about Russia and its international policies.

Bottom Row: L. Fontaine, Treas., M. Thomas, M. Goldthwaite, V. Pres., J. Mayer, M. Elliott, Sec'y., D. Young, Pres.

The Photographers' Association provides an opportunity for DePauw's camera enthusiasts to learn how to improve their photographic techniques. Members received valuable information on lighting, portraiture, and color photography from such speakers as Roy Hirshburg, local photographer, Al Reager from the Indianapolis Photographers' Association, and Frank Wallace, state entomologist.

Besides bringing speakers to the bi-monthly meeting, the club criticised prints and color work, took night pictures and portraits, and gave demonstrations of practical techniques. Pictures were taken on a bicycle fieldtrip around Greencastle in October.

TUSITALA HONORS DEPAUW WRITERS

Top Row: J. Troyer, T. Abbott, Pres., A. Fiorillo.

Working under the assumption that writers are not spontaneously generated, Tusitala, the creative writing honorary, encourages creative writers to perfect their abilities in the field of fiction.

Tusitala annually sponsors a contest to which aspiring authors submit two manuscripts of their own composition, either short stories, essays, poetry or autobiographies. Membership in the honorary is then awarded to those people whose work was of the highest quality and who showed the most promise according to the opinion of the faculty and student judges.

Some of the winning manuscripts are published in a special issue of the Boulder.

Bottom Row: G. Reed, D. Grosvenor, C. Coyle, M. Guston, B. Baughman, J. Foerster, B. Miller, M. Elliott.

In contrast to many honoraries which are not functional in any sense except as rewards for labor, Kappa Pi is active throughout the year. Kappa Pi is the honorary organization for students who have shown ability in the field of art. This group, under the leadership of Dick Paulin, had forty-four elected members.

The main event during the year was the Kappa Pi Midwest Convention which was held at DePauw in the fall with representatives from ten universities attending. The Midwest National Exhibit was also presented at DePauw in March.

BARD FASCINATES SHAKESPEARE CLUB

The distillation of the great bard's works has occupied the time of scholars for the last two centuries until people know more about Shakespeare than did Shakespeare.

Not completely unmindful of this tradition, the Shakespeare Club meets once a month to discuss and dramatize selections of his work. In a November ceremony 20 new pledges were dedicated to the study of Shakespeare. At the Christmas party, which was one of the high points of the year, each member brought a gift representing a quotation from one of the tragedies or comedies.

PSYCH MAJORS STUDY HUMAN BEHAVIOR

The Psychology Club, now in its second year, makes a study of the science of human behavior. Its members are psychology majors who are interested in the practical applications of the field, new techniques developed by experimental psychology, and the advanced theories of the field.

Most of the programs were presented by the faculty and students. New laboratory equipment purchased by the university was demonstrated to the group. Dr. J. C. Heston delivered a lecture before the members on the job opportunities which are available in this field.

Top Row: D. Sellers, D. Ducommun, B. Asher, Pres., M. Thomas, A. Prosser, N. Hoffman, B. Anson, J. Wright.

PHILOSOPHY CLUB MEETS, DISCUSSES

The purpose of the Philosophy Club is to provide an opportunity for informal discussions of philosophical subjects. It meets during the first Tuesday of every month and the programs are presented by the student members.

In the spring the club sponsors a lecture open to the whole campus and delivered by a guest speaker noted in the field of philosophy. At one of the fall meetings Dr. Henry Kolbe gave a report of his trip last summer to the conference on oriental and occidental philosophy in Hawaii.

Bottom Row: S. Peasley, D. Dahlen, D. Sass, B. Barr, V. Drasler, G. Johnson, P. O'Connor, D. Carroll.

In its second year of activity the Sailing Club was successful in accomplishing two objectives: the promotion of the sport on campus and the advancement of inter-school yacht racing and sailing competition. DePauw's sailors established an impressive record last summer by carrying away the first place trophy from the Putnam Bay, Ohio, dinghy race and by sailing into second place in the summer intercollegiate race at Sandusky, Ohio.

Fall racing resulted in a third place win in the third annual meet at Denison University and second place honors in the Ohio State invitational meet.

"Der deutsche Bund" of DePauw is a member of the American Federation of German Clubs. It is guided by the faculty members of the German Department as the group pursues its advanced studies of the German language and literature.

The members speak German at the bimonthly meetings. Foreign students were invited to talk at several of the meetings and the three faculty advisers each gave a lecture during the year. The other programs were entirely student-planned. The members listened to German music and sang German songs, showed slides, and participated in discussions about the German nation and culture.

Bottom Row: M. Ferguson, M. Semelka, K. Ziegelmueller, L. Woods, J. Anderson, V. Drasler, M. Gehres.

The members of the Chemistry Club are also associated with the professional organization, the American Chemical Society.

The group listened to lectures on various phases of chemistry that were presented by the members or guest speakers. Two of these lectures were "History of Chemistry" by Kenny Bjork and "Water Analysis" by Dr. J. M. Fulmer. The nationally known Dr. Percy Julian visited the group after his chapel speech in February. The club also studied films of industrial chemical processes and traveled to Indianapolis in the spring to visit the Naval Observatory and Eli Lilly Pharmaceutical Company.

DELTA OMICRON CHI HONORS PRE-MED MEN

Delta Omicron Chi, the pre-medical honorary, met every two weeks at various fraternity houses. Primarily designed to bring together men with a common professional interest, DOX requires that its members be at least second semester sophomores with an adequate scholastic standing.

The major projects of the year for the "Docs" was the sponsoring of a round-table discussion on socialized medicine. DOX men, members of the science and sociology departments, and a guest physician participated in the discussion which was open to the campus.

TRI-BETA ACTIVE IN FIRST YEAR

Beta Beta Beta, honorary biological fraternity, was organized on the DePauw campus in the spring of 1949 and proudly displayed its freshly inked charter in the showcase of Harrison hall this year.

Each member sporadically received the national Beta Beta Beta magazine, Bios, to help keep him informed of triple-B activities. This organization met once each month this past year to see films about biological topics and to listen to lectures on subjects such as nitrogen accumulation in the blood during deep-sea diving, game birds of the southern states, and bacterial food poisoning.

CLUB HEARS EXPERTS IN MONTHLY MEETS

The Botany Club provided its members with an opportunity to broaden their knowledge of both bacteriology and botany. In the fall the Indiana University Botany Club came to DePauw for a dinner meeting, and in the spring the process was reversed.

Dr. G. M. Dack, President of the National Food Research Institute, lectured on food poisoning for the February meeting. At other meetings Dr. Barbara Shaluca from IU described "Modern Trends in Horticulture", local florists delivered practical talks on their experiences, and Dr. C. L. Porter of Purdue outlined the opportunities in the field of mycology.

BIG SISTERS WATCH WAYWARD WOMEN

The breath and soul of the DePauw coed is under the control of the Association of Women Students. AWS regulates women's hours, week-end permissions, freshman study table, and the number of activities in which a woman may participate.

The work of AWS is carried out by a superstructure of committees whose chairmen compromise the senior AWS board and formulate the year's program. The AWS council is composed of house representatives from the women's living groups.

YWCA ENCOURAGES RELIGIOUS IDEALS

The YWCA prepares its members to take their places in the community and encourages the continuance of religious ideals. It sponsored the World Student Service Fund drive, pre-vacation vespers, and the May Day breakfast for all the girls and their mothers.

It was host to the Indiana district meeting of YWCA and YMCA and sponsored a "good grooming" program. YWCA's nine committees adopt destitute families, administer nursery schools, and raise funds for the organization's other activities.

WRA REGULATES WOMEN'S SPORTS

The Women's Recreation Association sponsors women's intramurals. To be eligible for membership in WRA a girl must participate in or referee a specified number of sports, or be an active member of Naiad or Orchesis. The Fall Walkout is the WRA pledging ceremony for which the eligible girls "walk out" to McKean field for their ribbons.

The WRA officers, house representatives, sports managers, and the president of Orchesis and of Naiad compose the WRA board.

Although water ballet seems delightfully easy to the old-water-hole type of swimmer, actually it is one of the most difficult of all the "cultural" sports (i.e., fencing, gymnastics, exhibition dancing, etc.) for amateurs to perform. Naiad's members, however, successfully present several water ballet programs each year.

This year Naiad gave six performances of the new circus ballet: two each for the faculty and students and once on Mother's Day and scholarship week-end. Representing clowns, animals and trapeze artists, the swimmers were introduced by a narrator dressed as a ringmaster and accompanied by carnival-type music.

Two different aspects of synchronized swimming are undertaken by the girls who are members of this swimming honorary—special swimming techniques, such as strokes, stunts, and diving, and the actual composition of the ballets themselves.

"Dance what you feel; create your own dances to interpret your own emotions." That is both the purpose and the accomplishment of Orchesis, the modern dance club. Its 25 members meet weekly to rehearse their own numbers and to study other phases of modern dancing.

At a program in April they performed their most difficult show, a dramatic skit, lecture demonstration, and regular dance concert combined. In the lecture demonstration the girls showed the various phases of the dance, such as quality and structure.

Ten members of the club visited the Purdue workshop in January, attending discussions, classes, and lessons and meeting Mark Ryder, one of the members of the Martha Graham dance company.

Orchesis learned once again from its large audiences that even if people are mystified by the interpretation of "the Dance", they are still appreciative of pretty girls in tights.

The Independent Women's Association, whose members have chosen not to affiliate with a Greek letter sorority, provides a more adequate social life and serves as a device for promoting closer friendships among women in the university halls.

This was IWA's first year of rush participation. Rushees visited the association during the first two nights of rush; at a preference dessert the members extended an open invitation to each girl to wear their black and gold pledge ribbons. In late fall the new active pins, a torch and wreath in black enamel and gold, appeared on campus.

IWA women selected one of their sisters as a candidate for the title of National Independent Sweetheart. During the year they had informal parties, dances, and a senior picnic. As did every other social organization, IWA held a formal dinner dance, being in February.

IMA'S FIRST YEAR ON CAMPUS MARKED BY FULL PROGRAM

This was the Independent Men's Association's first year on campus. The organization received the recognition of the Student Governing Board last October.

The purposes of the group include giving the independent men more chance in activities on campus, being represented on the Student Governing Board and Spex, and getting better intramural teams.

In the fall a pow-wow smoker at Florence Hall brought together independents from all over the campus to discuss their new organization. Among other social activities were a social with Independent Women's Association and an open house with Kappa Alpha Theta.

The formal dance at Florence Hall in the spring established IMA in the feminine eyes of the campus.

The cheer leaders are responsible for much of the spirit shown at varsity contests. Chosen by the Student Governing Board and "D" Men's Association, these enthusiasts are given a job which demands time and energy but which returns little.

Though he has no definite duties and receives little recognition, the varsity manager plays a vital role in the sports scene. Every task from doling out towels to bandaging ankles falls to the manager. After two years the varsity manager has earned a numeral, and after three years he is awarded a letter.

DPU MENTORS COACH WINNERS, LOSERS

RAYMOND "GAUMY" NEAL . . . Director of athletics since 1946, Neal holds a long and distinguished record in the athletic field. He was head football coach at DePauw for sixteen years (1930-45). At present, Neal heads the men's physical education department and is faculty advisor to the "D" association.

EDWIN R. "MIKE" SNAVELY . . . came to DePauw as head football coach in the fall of 1947. His first squad won two games and dropped six contests. Snavely piloted the Tigers to their greatest postwar grid season in 1948 when his team posted a 6-2 record and regained the coveted Monon Bell. His 1949 team, plagued by ineligibilities and handicapped by injuries, finished 1-7 for the campaign, but made a brilliant—though unsuccessful—stab at Wabash in the season finale.

JAY McCREARY . . . All-American at Indiana University in 1940 and assistant basketball coach at IU for the past two years, is the new varsity basketball coach. He began his duties as assistant professor of physical education and coach of freshman football on Sept. 5.

JOE THOMAS . . . is completing his second year on the campus. Varsity line coach in football last fall, Thomas continued in his capacity as freshman basketball coach and is currently serving as varsity baseball mentor. Thomas arrived at DePauw in the fall of 1948 to coach freshman football, basketball and baseball. He also succeeded Hal Hickman as director of intramurals.

CHARLES ERDMANN . . . came to DePauw in 1946 as assistant professor of physical education for men and coach of swimming and baseball. He produced two straight Little State swimming champions in 1947 and 1948. His 1949 squad won only one of nine meets but finished second in the Little State title meet.

LEROY BUCHHEIT . . . assistant in physical education for men, Buchheit has served as track coach at DePauw since 1918.

HANS GRUENINGER . . . welded an average tennis squad into a winning team that posted a 11-1 record last spring. He left his coaching position earlier this year to devote more time.

"D" MEN PROMOTE ATHLETIC SUPPORT

Membership in the "D" Men's Association is open to any student who has earned a major or minor letter in a varsity sport. The association works to improve and emphasize all phases of athletics at DePauw.

Throughout the year the organization persuaded other campus groups to support a program for student participation on the Athletic Board and a more liberal system for granting athletic awards. At the Old Gold Day lunch a plan was formulated enlisting the aid of alumni lettermen to attract outstanding high school athletes to DePauw.

Together the Student Governing Board and the "D" Men brought Glenn Cunningham to the annual "D" Association Banquet as guest speaker.

TIGER GRID SQUAD POSTS 1-7 RECORD, LOSES MONON BELL

DePauw's football team—dogged by replacement trouble—closed the 1949 campaign with a 1-7 record.

The Tigers defeated Lake Forest, 41-6, on Dads' Day for their lone triumph. But Coach Mike Snavely's team capped its season in fine style by a tremendous performance in the Monon Bell classic—although losing, 25-21, to Wabash.

Right: Bill Marks of DePauw is flipped as he attempts a run against Ball State. Playing only part of the season, Marks posted a total of six points for the Tiger cause.

DePauw traveled to Kalamazoo to open its schedule under the lights, and bowed 13-7. A second quarter splurge by the Hornets netted two touchdowns to overcome the Tigers' seven point first quarter lead.

The Black and Gold returned home to Blackstock Stadium and dropped a 33-13 decision to highly-touted Ball State. The Cardinal gridmen smashed across for three second-period TD's that clinched the victory.

Coach Snavely's squad next visited the lair of Hanover's Panthers and suffered a 27-7 setback. Hanover broke a 7-7 halftime tie with a strong second-half scoring attack.

DePauw's season record stood at 0-4 after a disastrous invasion of Grinnell (Ia.). The Pioneers exploded for three touchdowns in the last four minutes of the opening period to clinch a 34-13 victory.

An Old Gold Day crowd of nearly four thousand fans witnessed the Tigers' fifth straight loss—46-12 to Ohio Wesleyan. It marked the Bishops' tenth victory in the twelve-game series.

DePauw crushed visiting Lake Forest by an unexpected 41-6 margin before 4500 Dads' Day fans at Blackstock. Coach Mike Snavely's eleven rocked the Foresters with a two-touchdown opening quarter and turned the contest into a route with a 21-point third period.

DePauw journeyed to Illinois Wesleyan and came out on the short end of a 27-12 count. Too much Titan passing power in the first half cost the Tigers a 20-0 intermission deficit.

The Cavemen from Wabash took the coveted Monon Bell back to Crawfordsville by winning 25-21, in the season finale. DePauw played a tremendous ball game but a last minute 37-yard Buktenica to Beasley TD pass denied the Tigers the game. Five thousand rooters watched the Tigers miss a chance to deadlock the oldest pigskin rivalry west of the Allegheny mountains—Wabash copped the 57th game and now holds a 27-25 series edge, five contests ending in scoreless ties.

DEPAUW CAGERS WIN ELEVEN, DROP SEVEN

DePauw's 1949-50 basketball team completed its 18-game schedule with a 11-7 record. Jay McCreary—former assistant net coach at IU—piloted his first Black and Gold varsity squad.

The Tigers showed an amazing aptitude for the home court—winning nine of 10 games at Bowman gym during the season. On the road, DePauw could do not better than a 1-6 performance.

DePauw scored 1125 points on 424 field goals and 277 free throws for a 62.5 game average. The Tigers' opponents posted a 1058 point total for a 58.78 game average.

The Big Six (Freeland-Beck-Hamilton-Stauffer-Eckelman-Mote) tallied an average of 56.71 points per game, scored 243 of the 277 free throws and hit 384 of the 424 field goals.

"Deac" Freeland was DePauw's top scorer with 211 points.

DePauw displayed an extremely "on again —off again" season form. The Black and Gold net machine battled to a 23-all deadlock at intermission then shifted into high gear the final half to whip Canterbury, 59-41, for a successful 1949-50 court debut.

The Tigers took the road and suffered two straight defeats—70-49 to Purdue at the West Lafayette fieldhouse and 75-52 to Indiana State at Terre Haute.

The Black and Gold squared its season record and a rivalry at 2-2 by blasting visiting James Millikin, 62-55. Ball State fell prey to a hustling Tiger ball club, 62-47, after the Bengals led 25-24 at halftime. DePauw played its lone Christmas holiday encounter at Carroll and swamped the Pioneers, 76-46.

DePauw started the New Year off in fine fashion by trouncing Hanover, 85-71. Season triumph No. 5 extended the Tigers' unbroken victory string in the Hanover series to 16 games.

DePauw's four-game winning streak came to an end at the Butler fieldhouse in Indianapolis. Bulldog forward Dee Baker's field goal cracked a 48-48 tie and hoisted the Blue and White's 36th victory banner in the 55 game-old rivalry.

Above: Guard Russ Freeland flips one in from the side against Butler in Bowman Gym. The Tigers went on to win, 64-62.

Wabash tripped DePauw, 62-53, at the Crawfordsville goal-hall. The Cavemen broke a 29-all halftime deadlock to snap a seven-year Tiger jinx on the hardwood. The Sycamores from Indiana State handed DePauw its lone home floor loss of the campaign, 55-47.

DePauw traveled to Canterbury and subdued the Knights, 63-58, for its 10 straight victory without a defeat in a basketball rivalry dating back to the 1943-44 season. DePauw out-rebounded Franklin for a 72-65 victory and walloped visiting Kalamazoo, 74-58, after trailing 36-29 at the intermission.

Then—Butler came to town. And DePauw won, 64-62. The Tigers led 28-25 at halftime but were forced to come from behind in the game's waning minutes for their 20th decision in the 44-year-old hoop rivalry.

In a post-Butler game slump, DePauw lost its final road games of the campaign—63-57 to Ball State and 69-57 to Hanover, the Panthers' first hardwood triumph over DePauw in history. The Tigers stopped Earlham, 65-55 and went on to Wabash.

McCreary's inspired team crushed the Cavemen, 77-57, after commanding a 35-18 intermission margin. It was DePauw's 45th triumph in 85 meetings of the oldest foes in the midwest.

1949 BASEBALL SQUAD POSTS 3-11 RECORD

DePauw's baseball team posted a 3-11 record for the 1949 season.

Feeble hitting power, frequent fielding miscues and an inadequately manned pitching staff told the story.

Coach Charlie Erdmann had three hurlers on the squad. Glen Eckelman, Joe Butler and Bob Pauley—a converted catcher—gave off-and-on performances. When the pitchers were "on", the fielding and batting slumped.

The Tigers dropped nine straight ball games before copping three straight contests on the home diamond from Indiana State, Wabash and Canterbury.

Albion and Hanover blanked the Tigers 3-0 and 8-0 to start the trend of unhappy events.

Playing at Butler, the Tigers finally ended their string of 19 scoreless innings with a two-run splurge in the top of the second frame.

Left: Intense interest is written on the faces of Coach Erdmann and his team in the home half of the fifth inning against Butler.

DePauw jammed the sacks in the ninth inning, but three strike outs snuffed the rally and gave the Bulldogs a 9-5 victory.

After Ball State defeated DePauw, 9-6, at Blackstock field, the Tigers visited Indiana State and lost a 2-1 "heartbreaker" in 15 innings. Eckelman went the route—whiffing 15 men and allowing six walks.

Black and Gold baseball fortunes dipped to a new low with four more setbacks—three defeats coming at the hands of Wabash.

Victory dawned in a thrilling 6-5, ten-inning duel with Indiana State. Eckelman hurled nine innings but Pauley pitched hitless ball in the extra 10th to receive credit for the victory.

DePauw rallied for a run in the eighth inning to nip arch rival Wabash, 8-7, for victory No. 2. With the Tigers trailing 7-1 in the fourth inning, Pauley settled down to hurl shutout ball for five frames. Pauley scattered eight hits in going the distance for his second triumph.

The Tigers racked up No. 3 when Eckelman stopped Canterbury, 8-2, limiting the Knights to a trio of scratch singles. Eckelman faced only 35 batters, walked but two while striking out six players.

THINLIES BREAK EVEN, THIRD IN LITTLE STATE

DePauw's varsity track team won three of six dual meets and finished the 1949 season with a third place in the Little State meet.

Sophomore Dave Sheperd shattered the Little State discus record with a 148′ 3½″ heave for DePauw's only first in the meet. Sheperd's effort bettered the previous mark by eight feet.

The Tiger trackmen bowed to Indiana State, 69-62, in the season opener. Coach LeRoy Buchheit's squad traveled to Franklin and blasted the Grizzlie squad by an 84-47 count.

DePauw lost its first home meet, 75-57, to Ball State—eventual Little State champions. The Tigers took the measure of Wabash, 75-55, to square their home record.

The Black and Gold squad visited the Fairview oval in Indianapolis and lost to Butler by a 75-56 count. DePauw returned home to Blackstock and swamped hapless Earlham, 117-18, in the final dual meet of the season.

Ball State broke the 25-year Butler-DePauw first place monopoly to win the Little State title at Muncie. The Cardinals piled up 56 6 7 points for the crown. Butler finished second with 48 3/7 points and DePauw scored 33 13/14 points for third place honors.

DePauw scored one point in the Big State at Notre Dame when Mac Parker tied for third in the pole vault.

Parker boasted a clean record in regular season dual meets. The Tiger sophomore vaulted 12′ 3″ in the Earlham meet for his best performance.

Don Bartlett went undefeated in the broad jump. He leaped 21′ ¼″ against Ball State.

Tom Walker grabbed numerous blue ribbons in the high jump. Walker made a 5′ 9½″ jump at Butler.

Bob Bresick and Burley Colbrunn set the pace in the 120 yard high hurdles. Bresick skimmed the boards in :15.9 in the Franklin meet to clip .4 seconds off the previous DePauw mark. Against Earlham, Colbrunn stepped off the event in :15.8 for a new record.

Ollie White was the chief Tiger threat in the dashes. White also ran the 220 yard low hurdles with Paul Wagner and Salen Herke.

Pat Altgelt and Charlie West picked up points for DePauw in the 440 yard dash. West also ran the 880 yard run.

Half-miler Jim Keene, a newcomer to the squad, copped his first intercollegiate victory by winning the 880 yard run in 2:06.2 at Indiana State.

Bob Snyder handled the mile and two mile runs for the Tigers. Veteran miler Bart Anson won the event at Indiana State in 4:52.5.

Altgelt, Keene, Dick Everard and West comprised the Tiger mile relay team that turned in a 3:37.4 race against Wabash.

Kermit Morrison and John Tedford grabbed several second and third place points behind Sheperd in the discus. Tedford and Jesse Vail threw the shot for the Tigers while high jumper John Murray bolstered DePauw strength in field events.

NATORS WIN 6, GAIN LITTLE STATE CROWN

DePauw's 1950 swimming team capped a successful 6-2 season record by winning the Little State meet at Muncie. In recapturing the swimming crown last won in 1948, the Tiger nators scored 71 points to Ball State's defending Little State champions 47 and Indiana State's 36.

During the season meets, Lee Cooper paced the Tiger tankmen in the 220 and 440 yard freestyle events. Cooper broke two DePauw records in the first Indiana State clash in Bowman pool. In the 220 yard freestyle, he wiped out the former school record of 2:30.3 with a 2:28 performance. Cooper's 5:37 victory in the 440 freestyle toppled the former mark of 5:37.3.

Bill Cummings and Dave Leonard shared honors in the 60 yard freestyle while Tom Parfitt and Jim Griffith captured numerous first places in the 150 yard backstroke. In the 100 yard freestyle, Dave Walker and Brock Stewart scored frequent victories while Bob Snyder consistently copped diving honors.

In the initial Indiana State meet, the Bengal 400 yard freestyle relay team of Leonard, Walker, Cummings and Stewart established new pool and DePauw records with a 3:50 performance.

1949 TIGER NETTERS POST 11-1 RECORD

Coach Hans Grueninger's tennis team swept to 11 victories in 12 outings to highlight the 1949 spring sports season.

The Tiger netters were runners-up in the Little State meet at Earlham—won by an unheralded Tri State (Ind.) team. DePauw won the crown in 1947.

Bob Bastian, Dick Hamilton and John Moorhouse were the number one, two and three singles men last spring. Alternating in the remaining singles slots were Boots Duesing, Chris Gulbrandsen and Dick Powell.

Bastian and Moorhouse swept through undefeated in 11 season matches in the number one doubles position. Hamilton-Duesing comprised the number two doubles team with Gulbrandsen and Powell alternating on doubles teams.

DePauw opened the season by whipping Ball State, 6-1, on the Muncie courts. The Tigers continued their court mastery by trouncing visiting Lake Forest, 7-2.

to four straight with a 5-2 conquest of Ball State.

DePauw's racquet team scored a pair of 5-2 weekend victories at Earlham and Miami. Against Earlham's Quakers, the Bastian and Moorhouse number one doubles duo defeated Dave and Brent Lyttle, 1948 Little State doubles champions (6-3, 2-6, 6-3).

Coach Grueninger's team extended its winning streak to eight straight matches by clipping Butler, 5-2, and blanking Wabash again by a 7-0 margin.

DePauw fought a gruelling five-hour duel with Chicago's highly-touted Maroon squad and scored a brilliant 5-4 triumph. It marked Chicago's second defeat in ten matches. Bastian and Moorhouse handed Chicago's Hirschwald and Robinson their first setback in ten starts (7-5, 6-3).

The Tigers played Lake Forest the following afternoon and the strain of the Chicago battle took its toll as the Foresters ended DePauw's nine match winning streak, 6-2.

DePauw returned to its home courts and won a rain-abbreviated 4-1 decision from Earlham. The Tigers closed the campaign with a 5-3 repeat on Butler at Indianapolis.

FROSH GRIDDERS SPLIT TWO-GAME CARD

Coach Jay McCreary's 1949 frosh football squad split its two-game card—downing Ball State, 12-6, and bowing to Wabash by a 19-6 margin.

At Muncie, the Cardinal frosh led 6-0 at halftime. The Tigers deadlocked the ball game in the third period when left-half George Douglas scored from the 11 yard line. In the final quarter, quarterback Bobby Stephens tallied the winning TD from the 3 on a quarterback sneak.

Wabash grabbed a 13-0 halftime lead at Blackstock and added another TD in the fourth quarter for its 19-6 triumph. Fullback Jim Dailey scored DePauw's lone touchdown at the outset of the third period. Quarterback Stephens completed 14 of 24 passes to end Jim Hollensteiner during the contest.

McCreary had a crack backfield in quarterback Stephens, left-half Douglas, fullback Dailey and right-half Ward Shawver—a great broken field runner.

TIGER FRESHMEN POST FIVE CAGE VICTORIES

Coach Joe Thomas piloted DePauw's 1949-50 freshman basketball team to a successful 5-1 campaign record. The high-scoring Tiger frosh routed four opponents before stumbling, 56-51, to Ball State's rhine squad on the Muncie court.

Statistics show a well-balanced offensive punch. Brandt was the team's leading scorer with 57 points. Guild followed a close second with 55 markers while Gephart amassed 54 points for third place honors. In the starting five point total—Stewart contributed 49 and Dailey tallied 45. Stephens finished sixth with 22. Deer copped seventh with 16 and James scored 14 for eighth place. Jim Hollensteiner counted 7 and Bob Bates 4 to complete the DePauw individual scoring tally sheet.

TRACK SQUAD GOES UNDEFEATED IN 1949

DePauw's freshman track team showed great varsity prospects in winning the two meets on its 1949 spring calendar.

The frosh thinly-clads trounced Ball State, 94½ to 36½ in a dual meet and then grabbed top honors in a five-way freshman meet at Blackstock. The Tigers scored 69½, Butler totaled 67, Wabash 31½, Ball State 27 and Indiana State 26. DePauw edged Butler for first place on the last event when Carl Layden, Dick Chamberlain and Phil Crane teamed together for eight points in the discus to Butler's three.

High-point man was Charles "Zip" LeMaster who paced the DePauw team. In the Ball State dual meet, LeMaster won both dashes (100—:10.5 and 220—:23.2), the high jump (5′ 9″) and the broad jump (21′ 3¼″).

IM SPORTS FILL DEPAUW YEAR

Judging from the number of participants and spectators—intramural sports are De Pauw's most popular extra-curricular activity. From mid-September to late May, Bowman gym and the athletic fields are the scene of spirited competition and ardent cheering.

Joe Thomas of the varsity coaching staff is the director of intramurals. Stan Stutzman served as president of the intramural board this year.

Eleven indoor and outdoor sports comprise the I-M program. Fall sports include speedball, tennis and golf. The intramural program moves indoors for the winter season with ping pong, swimming, bowling, basketball and volleyball on the schedule. Intramurals move outdoors again in the spring as softball, track and horseshoes vie for the limelight.

A point system determines the intramural standings. Points are also awarded each house for its players on the varsity teams. Beta Theta Pi won the All-Intramural Trophy for 1948-49.

ATHLETIC WOMEN VIE IN SPORTS

Throughout the year the women's intramurals provided recreation for DePauw women. Members of the Physical Education Department and of the WRA Board arranged the tournaments and awarded the cups to the winners of the different events at Recognition Chapel.

The team sports conducted included volleyball, swimming, field hockey, softball, bowling, archery, and basketball. Tournaments in table tennis, badminton, and tennis gave the amazons an opportunity to display their individual talents.

The women of Mason Hall walked away with the volleyball title, and the swimming honors remained in the Kappa Alpha Theta house for another year. Another repeat came when the sophomore-senior team again downed the freshman-junior team on the hockey field. The girls of Alpha Chi Omega sorority reigned over the softball diamond as Kappa Kappa Gamma sorority rolled into first place in the bowling tournament. On the archery range Alpha Omicron Pi pulled down the top position.

Kappa Alpha Theta's Swedish exchange student, Ula Norjenskold, took over the tennis courts with Kappas Jean Wilcox and Mary Ann Bills doing the same in the badminton tournament. The coal shortage and the subsequent shut-down of the gymnasium halted the playing of table tennis and basketball.

Participation in or officiating for intramurals qualifies a girl for membership in WRA.

the social whirl

DATING INTERESTS DEPAUW STUDENTS

Dating remained high on DePauw's list of time-consuming activities. The reopening of the Chateau shortened the winter waiting lines at the Voncastle; but in the fall and spring, picnics and hayrides were still the favorite campus pastimes. Drinking Cokes and listening to a juke box scream, house dances and parties, hand-in-hand chapel dates continued to play their important parts in the social life of the DePauw campus.

Above: Saying goodnight at the door marks the end of an evening of dancing at the house formal.

DANCES CROWD SOCIAL CALENDAR

If one cannot find a dance somewhere on campus every week-end, the plague has struck or vacation has arrived. The dances vary in theme from bazaar to bizarre and are usually successful except during the blanket party season. Although there were many triad and duo fraternity dances, a few of the houses held out for the old-fashioned mono. Dance favors included everything from men's jewel cases to cap pistols. Chaperons still fought for air in little side rooms and performed a calisthenic called "sitting, standing, and take this chair" for every visiting couple.

ALUMNI RETURN ON OLD GOLD DAY

In 1908 Bishop Edwin Holt Hughes inaugurated Old Gold Day. Originally the day was to end the friction between the freshmen and the sophomores. The day has come to mean the return of distinguished and successful alumni and of others.

The members of Sigma Delta Chi and Alpha Delta Sigma began the day with their traditional touch-football game. The annual contest for the best house decorations resulted in Delta Delta Delta's "Gullible's Travels" copping the sorority trophy, while among fraternities "Quoth the Raven" won for Lambda Chi Alpha. The judges were faculty and administration members.

With each Old Gold Day comes the annual meeting of the directors of the Alumni Association. Following the meeting, a special chapel was held. This year's chapel speaker was Dr. James V. Claypool, former navy chaplain and present secretary of the American Bible Society. At Gobin Memorial Church, the D Men's Association prepared a luncheon for the alumni. Despite the disheartening score, the DePauw-Ohio Wesleyan game proved to be interesting. At halftime Hank Lewis, Kappa Tau Kappa president, crowned Kathleen Law Old Gold Day Queen.

FESTIVITIES HIGHLIGHT DAD'S DAY WEEKEND

Fathers of DePauw students were honored last October during Dads' Day weekend. Festivities began Saturday morning with the traditional Delta Kappa Epsilon—Phi Delta Theta Toilet Bowl game. Although the Phi Delts were victorious, the queen, Marguerite O'Meara, was chosen by the Dekes. At noon the Dads' association held its annual luncheon meeting in Bowman gymnasium and elected officers for the year '49-'50. This was followed by the DePauw-Lake Forest football game in which the Tigers trampled their opponents, 41 to 6. Two events provided diversions for the evening—"She Stoops to Conquer," presented in Speech hall by the Little Theatre; and a talent show, given in Meharry hall. Sunday morning most of the fathers attended special church services with their sons and daughters. Many houses then entertained with short programs, including comedy skits and musical numbers, after which the dads enjoyed banquets arranged especially for them.

MAY DAY HONORS DPU MOTHERS

Cars streamed into Greencastle all day May 6 bringing mothers from different states to DePauw's May Day weekend festivities. Events began that Friday evening with a lantern parade, followed by a group sing on Music hall steps.

Saturday was filled with many activities presented by different organizations. In the morning YWCA held its annual mother-daughter breakfast in Bowman gym which preceded the traditional Mortar Board capping ceremony. After that, Naiad presented its water ballet.

The coronation program at McKean field followed in the afternoon. The climax of the ceremony came when Judy Jackson was crowned May Queen.

JUDGES NAME FIVE IN BEAUTY CONTEST

To act as judges in its annual beauty queen contest the Mirage procured the services of Mrs. Lotys Benning Stewart, fashion editor of the Indianapolis Star, and Mr. Kurt Kyvic, president of the senior class of Butler university. Basing their decision upon beauty and photogenic qualities, the judges narrowed the original field of 53 to 12 finalists and then chose as DePauw's loveliest Miss Joan Holmes, Delta Delta Delta; Miss Peggy Tennant, Alpha Phi; Miss Marjorie Needham, Alpha Chi Omega; Miss Martha Ann York, Kappa Kappa Gamma; and Miss Sally Gurley, Alpha Phi.

LARGEST DEPAUW CLASS IN HISTORY GRADUATES

The graduating class of 1950 spent a successful year under the leadership of Dick Athey. As in the past they sponsored the sale of commencement announcements and in March they presented the school with their class gift. The winner of the Guy Morrison Walker Cup was selected by them and given to the senior who has done the most for DePauw. Also honored by the privilege of awarding the Old Gold Goblet, presented at the senior-alumni banquet, the freshman class of 1946 donned their caps and gowns with a fond adieu to DePauw.

JUNIORS GAIN TOP CAMPUS POSITIONS

In the junior year the tedium of positions and offices replaced the fatigue of the duties and chores of the freshman and sophomore years.

Campus activities began to reveal possibilities to those juniors who had garnered the minor positions; and with the top offices as a goal these active juniors plied themselves more at the publication building, in the campus organizations, and on the varsity teams.

In the houses the juniors took up the task that fall to fraternity fathers and sorority mothers. Spring found the juniors filling all the jobs from house manager and song leader to house president.

As the school year drew to a close, pins changed persons; honoraries added the names of juniors to their rosters; and the juniors started to make plans for their final year and their careers. As they danced at the junior prom, the juniors realized they could look back on a year of achievement and pleasure.

SOPHOMORES ENJOY NEW FREEDOM

Fighting an expanding head size, the sophomores entered a new phase of college life. Among the changes made in their status was the shift from the dorms to the houses—or relief from freshmen duties only to have sophomore duties. More privileges and release from many rules gave the sophomores a chance to work harder at what they call "carrying their class to the top."

The sophomore year could have been called "activity year", for the class worked hard in athletics, clubs, and honoraries—with a covetous eye on junior positions. Sophomore men were eligible to star in many varsity athletics while the rest of the class labored at enthusiasm and school spirit through Spex, their honorary. They also pounded out copy for the DePauw, joined honoraries, and did their bit to further the pinning complex on campus. The girls helped to orient the freshmen women by being AWS big sisters, spent hours making dance decorations, and rushed from one meeting to another.

FRESHMEN BEGIN COLLEGE CAREERS

With a last look at the old high school yearbook the freshman passed through the ivy-covered gates and launched themselves into the demanding schedule of orientation tests and rush.

Following fall pledging, the spirit of Freshmen Past appeared on campus in the form of green beanies on the Freshmen Present. Down campus then became the center of attention as the wild program of pot snatching began. KTK and AWS helped acquaint the new classmates at the fall freshman mixer.

AWS big sisters helped guide the green feminine portion of the freshmen with the hand of experience while the Freshman Interfraternity Council handled relations between the pledge classes on the masculine side.

Life was not all gaiety and pledge duties but also long hours of study table as the prospective Alpha Lambda Deltas and Phi Eta Sigmas strived for a 2.5 average; but most were content to worry out that 1.0.

Things were quieter in the freshman dorms this year too. Under the new dorm system freshman and upperclass women were intermixed in each hall.

KTK COORDINATES, INVESTIGATES

As coordinators of better relations between the fourteen men's Greek letter organizations on campus, Kappa Tau Kappa settled interfraternity problems, set up rush rules, and served as agent between the fraternities and the administration.

Together KTK and AWS sponsored Field Day, introducing as this year's new attraction, the Orange Race. Ray Anthony again provided the music for KTK's interfraternity dance. Interfraternity days were sponsored in an attempt to cement the relations of the fraternities and to work on their individual and joint problems; the keep-off-the grass campaign, and the bridge tournament were other reasons for KTK's existence.

PAN-HEL RULES RUSH, INTEGRATES

The Panhellenic council, composed of two representatives from each of the ten women's Greek letter organizations on campus, formed the rush rules and strived to promote harmony among their respective groups.

This year a new sorority, Delta Gamma, was added to both DePauw and Panhel. Semi-monthly supper meetings operated on a rotation system among houses and served as an integrating force among those sororities.

DePauw's Panhel received one hundred dollars from the state Panhellenic Association this year to use for a worthy cause on campus. They are the donors of the Panhellenic Scholarship, given at Recognition Chapel each spring.

FRESHMAN COUNCIL WINS INDEPENDENCE

Serving as a board to promote better relations among the various fraternity pledge classes, the Freshman Interfraternity Council struggled to settle all problems arising among the organized freshmen. Grievances between the houses, such as those resulting from the "pot-snatching" season, were under the jurisdiction of the FIC.

The council consists of one representative from each of the men's Greek letter organizations and one from Men's Hall Association. The addition of the Men's Hall Association representative to the council was one of the changes made this year, and the council also chose to be no longer directly affiliated with Kappa Tau Kappa. It drew up its own constitution and appointed Mr. James Ward as faculty adviser.

Though now separated from KTK, the Freshman Interfraternity Council still receives suggestions from the senior group. The two organizations worked together in arranging the decorations for the fall KTK dance. Meeting every other Thursday, each time at a different house, the council arranged smokers among the pledge classes and discussed current freshman problems. During the week of the Wabash-DePauw football game, the council organized a guard of freshmen to protect the Monon Bell from any wandering Cavemen. A hayride for the FIC representatives climaxed the year's activities.

OMEGA: How we love thy name

The Alpha Chis began the year by adding new pledges and an exchange student, Jorunn Areklett, to their number. The fall formal, "Southern Cotillion," was the first social event of the year, soon followed by Old Gold Day and Dad's Day. A highlight of the year was the visit of Mrs. Olive Clark, one of the original founders. She related many interesting stories about the beginning of the sorority. Then term papers and exams brought forth a new semester comprised of the Alpha Duo, pin serenades, robe hunt, and then term papers again. The Alpha Chi class of 1950 had written their last exams for DePauw.

ALPHA GAMMA DELTA: You hold a place

The girls of the English mansion returned in high spirits for the grand year ahead. A sudden fad for painting and papering their rooms started the year, besides the long hours of canasta in the lounge. An open house after the first football game, exchange dinners, a very beautiful winter pledge formal, and the annual Christmas party filled the first semester. The Alpha Gams' spring dance was a big success, and the cap and gown hunt led the sophomores and juniors a merry chase. The traditional June weekend at McCormick's creek gave the seniors a royal send-off, the perfect ending to a wonderful year.

ΠΙ: Friends as the years go by

After the busy days of rush, Alpha Omicron Pi was ready for its 1949-50 social calendar. Between cheering at football games and taking part in other campus functions, they found time to plan exchange parties and desserts. The foreign students were entertained at a dinner and a Sunday evening buffet was held for members of the administration. The pledges were presented at the "Snow Manor" dance in December. An informal dance was held on April 22. Besides social events, the girls continued their philanthropic work of sending gift packages to needy families in Kentucky. Initiation, swing out, and finally graduation completed the happy, busy year.

ALPHA PHI: True to thee, I will

The Alpha Phis returned this fall to their house with the winding staircase and began the social season with their annual fall dance and the introduction of 24 pledges as "Cover Girls" A Founders' Day tea given on Oct. 9 and a faculty tea given later in the fall in honor of Mrs. George Ander were two highlights of the semester. The winter season brought a Christmas party with the DUs. After the gloom of exams had cleared, the Phis started activities, intramurals, and plans for their annual spring dance, "Forget-Me-Not." All too soon the happy, eventful year came to a close.

DELTA: I'll dream of you and love you

With "Gulliver and the men from Lilliput" representing DePauw's tiger and the men from Ohio Wesleyan, Delta Delta Delta won the trophy for Old Gold Day decorations. In honor of the pledges a dinner dance, "Orchids to You," was presented in the fall. December brought the Christmas tea, a yearly event held for the faculty and administration, and that evening the party with the AOPis. In May all senior women were honored at the Pansy Breakfast. After a bridal fashion show, the engaged guests walked through a large pansy ring as their wedding dates were announced. Commencement ended an eventful year for Delta Alpha of Delta Delta Delta.

In 1950 the Gamma Iota chapter of Delta Gamma was welcomed to the DePauw campus. The long-awaited installation of the chapter and the initiation of 36 charter members took place on Dec. 3 and 4. "Anchor Ball" was the title of their formal which was held the succeeding week end. The DGs were quite active in sport events; they played the Dekes in baseball and the Kappas in football, the gridiron contest ending in a scoreless tie. In the annual auction chapel the Dekes and the DGs purchased one another's services, the former entertaining at a barbecue and the latter reciprocating with "Cook's Night Out."

Dream girl of Delta Zeta

Delta Zetas, in the fall of 1949, found themselves with a full calendar ahead. "We've got this all tied up," they said in Old Gold Day decorations—a football player well anchored with strings. A surrealistic theme was predominate in their pledge dance. The Christmas season was especially busy with the annual caroling to houses on campus, Delta Zeta alumnae, and other friends. They gave an all-campus tea for the faculty, administration, housemothers and house presidents. The pledges, tea and the spring dance were quite successful. All these events kept Delta Zeta busy throughout the year.

Kappa Alpha Theta started a busy year by introducing their pledges at the "Indian Summer" dance and copping first place in the intramural swimming meet. The Thetas paid their WSSF auction debts to the Lambda Chis with a backward party and all-day dates with the Sigma Chis. The DePauw Duo in the spring celebrated the founding of DePauw's two Alpha chapters—Kappa Alpha Theta and Alpha Chi Omega. The girls pledged Ulla Nordenskjold, a Swedish exchange student, who was a welcome addition for the year and affiliated Mrs. Kircher, their housemother. GAMMA: I love you truly, KKG

Iota of Kappa Kappa Gamma returned to find their house completely redecorated from top to bottom—a tremendous send-off for '49-'50. The pledges were honored in fall "Under the Big Top," which included clowns and circus animals for decorations. They transformed the Delta Upsilon house into a "Pi Phi Paradise" for the pledge class. In return for the use of the house, the girls gave them a Christmas tree decorating party. Breakfast with the Delta Chis climaxed the traditional early morning Christmas caroling. The Golddiggers banquet was held at the Beta Theta Pi house. All in all, this was certainly a year to be remembered for Pi Beta Phi.

The girls behind the venetian blinds

Mid-September brought many old and new faces to Mason hall, but soon the new faces transformed into old ones, and we all joined in at the "Pigskin Polka." Too soon Thanksgiving was over and a click click could be heard on every floor in last minute efforts to finish argyles for Christmas. Came spring and the senior dorm members presented their will, the junior class its prophecy, the sophomores dramatized a skit, while the freshmen looked on in amazement. It was just another year but one to be remembered as being successful under the guidance of Miss Hildebrand, the new house counselor.

LUCY ROWLAND HALL: Here's to

So many things happened to make this year at Lucy different. A new resident counselor, Miss Van Popering, came to guide the girls through the fun and study of 1949-1950. For the first time, freshmen lived in Lucy, the switch board was open an hour after study table, and the beautiful formal, entitled "Winter Mist," was held in the parlor. In November the girls resumed the tradition of the Lucy Rowland birthday dinner. Just before Christmas everybody stopped studying for a wonderful dormitory party which revealed much local talent. All in rapid succession came the spring informal dance, June, and then graduation.

RECTOR HALL

The upperclassmen in Rector hall helped the freshmen by introducing them to study table and exchange dinners. Their thirty-second anniversary dinner, and the formal dance "Neptune's Fantasy" were two highlights of the season. Studies, dates, and bumroom parties tied with a ribbon of Rector spirit made this year one of the happiest at DePauw.

LOCUST MANOR

"Destination DePauw", the title of the fall formal, was particularly appropriate because the residents of Locust Manor were transfer students. The yule season was inaugurated with a tree-trimming party for the girls and their dates. The spring social whirl and final exams ended an exciting first year at DePauw.

OMEGA: Here's to the old Alpha Tau

Committed to a standard that "through these portals pass the men who have the most fun," Alpha Tau Omega spent its twenty-sixth season at DePauw rounding out the college life of 54 actives and pledges. Tradition, the birth of new and the revival of old, made the year 1949 one of the best. Sixteen graduating Taus will recall their senior year as one marked by the V.M.I. Duo, "queen for a day," "King Alpha's Ball," steak fries, hay rides, the Father's Day wagon and the rest. All added up to the total result of spicing this business of getting an education with a unique ATO variety of fun.

BETA THETA PI: Marching along in

The wide-open doors of Beta Theta Pi welcomed returning members to a newly-decorated interior and another year of Beta living. Fall spotlighted football with a spirited float and parade. Underprivileged children enjoyed dinner and a movie with them at Christmastime. Social activities varied from formal to country-style as they entertained at the Miami Triad with Sigma Chis and Phi Delta Thetas and later converted their house and yard for a chicken barbecue. The Beta Theta Pis, with the devoted aid of Nanny Brooks for the fifteenth year, completed another year of accomplishment upon which its future can continue to grow.

comrades, let our voices mingle

Delta Chi, located on South Locust, began the new school year with a redecorated house and 21 new pledges. The Old Gold Day decorations, "The Bishop Murder Case," were completed with defendant, jurors, and judge. In keeping with the Egyptian theme of the fall formal mummies, pyramids, and pharaohs were in every room of Villa Lante. The Delta Chis paid their WSSF auction debt with a steak-and-truffles dinner for the Tri Delts. In March the DePauw chapter joined with the Purdue and Indiana university chapters for state day in Indianapolis.

Fall found the Dekes with a new mascot, Pokey—a great Dane— which kept them in a complete turmoil during the first semester. The fall events began on Dad's Day when the Dekes battled the Phi Delts in their classic Toilet Bowl, at which Miss Marguerite O'Meara was crowned queen. They also kept busy following their intramural teams and giving fortnightly dances throughout the year. After Christmas and exams the spring activities started. The highlight of the social calendar was the spring formal in May. Thanks to a fine spirit of cooperation, this year at DePauw proved highly profitable.

DELTA: You are my safest shelter

Roaring back to the shelter after an alumni day so successful that it made Banta's Greek Exchange, the brethen were greeted with paint brushes and lawn mowers. The new furniture preceded the first rush group into the house by a few hours, but the image wasn't straight for days. Formal introduction to the lawn and 3,216 window panes served to enliven country club living for the pledges, while the whole chapter tuned up for serenades, a snappy fall "cocktail party," and the traditional Christmas informal. Spring's threat of rain to the Sunken Garden dance was the only bump in the chapter's seventy-eighth successful year at DePauw.

DELTA UPSILON: Hail, Delta

Delta Upsilon's sixty-second year opened with a redecorated first floor and an unusual pledge class in its wealth of spirit and magicians. The charm of a new housemother, Mrs. Rees, and the spirit of the fall sports campaign were soon in evidence, while a classic pledge party added spice. A Christmas orphans party with the Phis, a sorority dance in the Temple, and the traditional "Rose Dance" highlighted the social calendar while final week saw the usual round of exotic pastimes sweep through the house. Spring brought initiation, blanket parties, and the graduation of the largest senior class in the history of the chapter.

ALPHA: Who wears that crescent?

The cooperative spirit in the Xi Zeta chapter of Lambda Chi Alpha is one reason for the reputation enjoyed by the chapter's serenade group. This spirit also helped Xi Zeta win the cup given for the best Old Gold Day decorations, a prize held six times in the past eight years. The chapter house saw many successful social events. "The Watermelon Bust" attracted 250 freshman girls. The fall freshman dance, the annual Christmas party with its skits and yuletide spirit, and many exchange dinners constituted a full social program that ended with the elaborate formal dinner-dance in May.

PHI DELTA THETA: Phi Delta

Sports, pledging 15 new members, and studying kept the Indiana Zeta of Phi Delta Theta busy during its eighty-first year. The Phi Delts invited their guests to "Go to Hell" with their "Dante's Inferno" dance. The annual Miami Triad, given with the Sigs and the Betas in the springtime, was a little more on the formal side, but still as much fun. Intramurals kept the Phi Delts busy. Their biggest sports event was triumphing over the Dekes 6-0 in the classic Toilet Bowl game on Old Gold day. In all aspects it was a highly successful year for Phi Delta Theta.

DELTA: Fiji land is sure the land

September brought a new housemother, Mrs. Gilbert Mason, to Fijiland. Members of Phi Gamma Delta, with their 15 new pledges, took an active part in intramurals and social events. On Old Gold Day the decorations were cleverly carried out with the theme of "Burning the Battling Bishops." A formal dance entitled "White Stardust" began the social program and in the spring the Jeff Duo was given with the Phi Psis to commemorate the founding of both fraternities at Washington and Jefferson college. The Fijiland party, which guests attended in grass skirts and sarongs, was the last big event of the year.

A television aerial sprouted from the chimney and dreams of a wing extension were contemplated, but the Rockpile seemed very little different in 1949-50. Old but unworn traditions provided the best times—the mothers' picnic was again a Solomon's feast, the rhines again knocked themselves out in the businessmen's smoker boxing bouts and the Christmas dinner dance was revived and enjoyed. Mote, Heise and Stauffer were three parts of the seven-man tiger basketball crew and they had their own rooting section. EPSILON: True fraternity

Indiana Delta's second year on the DePauw campus began with renewed spirit and enthusiasm. During the summer a new addition and redecoration had made the house ready for rush and the men's return to school in September. At the end of rush, nineteen pledges brought the chapter membership to forty-five. The new school year ushered in a busy schedule of intramural games, exchange dinners. and serenades. The "Pledge Kid Party," the Christmas and spring formals, "Mom" Lawyer's pin serenade and, of course, state day highlighted the social season. Rush, registration, and the bell all helped usher in this busy ninety-first year of Sigma Chi on the DePauw campus. Along with the Pi Phis they sponsored an old-fashioned "Biergarten" at the WSSF street fair. The bidding on the Sigs' "Wednesday Date from Eight to Eight" topped all others at auction chapel. Then came the fraternity's biggest social event of the year, the "Belle Formal," at which Wanda Beebe was crowned "Sweetheart of Sigma Chi" for the year 1949-50. A Christmas party for the children in Greencastle plus the Miami Triad with the Betas and Phi Delts helped to complete the year.

White Star of Sigma Nu

As the Sigma Nu men returned to start the chapter's sixtieth year at DePauw, they found the chapter to be the smallest since the years before the war. However, a noteworthy addition was their new housemother, Mrs. Moore. A new chapter mascot, Thibideaux IX, reigned over the eighteen pledges.

This year Sigma Nu and Alpha Tau Omega introduced the VMI Duo to DePauw. Dinner at the Sigma Nu house preceeded the dance given by ATO.

The Sigma Nus began the fall with quick victories in tennis and speedball. After picking up the trophies, they proceeded to make social kills with their fall dance, "S.S. Sigma Nu," and their barbeque party with Alpha Gamma Delta.

MEN'S HALL ASSOCIATION: To Thee

Throughout the year the pledges of Men's Hall Association were busy painting the cords of sixty graduating seniors, the largest class in the history of the hall. One of the runners-up in speedball and basketball, MHA again maintained its high intramural standing. But this year the emphasis was on activities within the hall. MHA formulated an intra-hall athletic program that included football, basketball, ping pong, and softball.

The hall also saw the rise of some new music groups. One singing group, the MHA Collegians, made public performances at Old Gold Day Chapel and at several orchestra concerts. Equipped with truck and piano, the hall's serenade

Informal open houses, picnics, and hayrides as well as formal dinners and dances were incorporated into the MHA social picture. For the fall dance, "The Temple of Shiva," the basement of Longden Hall was converted into a Hindu street scene complete with bazaar and fakir. INDEPENDENT MEN: To Old Depauw

Florence hall during 1949-50 served as the major housing unit for independent men. A few of them, however, could be found in Longden and scattered about Greencastle in private homes and in the married men's quonsets and barracks.

While in previous years the only organized activities in which independent men participated as such were intramurals, this year they organized the Independent Men's Association to avail themselves of the social opportunities enjoyed by the organized living groups.

The independents are particularly proud of their non-conformist stand during the political campaigns. They are ardently wooed by both parties, since the numbers of the parties are nearly equal and the tide of victory moves in the direction the independent vote goes.

Comptroller Tells Statistics To Rotarians;
Students Spend $850,000 A Year Here
DePauw students and house groups spend more than $850,000 a year in Greencastle and environs, H. H. Brooks, university comptroller told the local Rotary club Wednesday.
Students spent approximately $27,000 per month in "pin money" alone, according to Brooks.
The comptroller also pointed out that the university spends more than $220,000 in Putnam county just for operations.
Brooks further stated that 84 DPU employees own their own homes in the locality with the assessed evaluation of $201,120. Employee's personal property evaluation is $65,370.
Speaking on tax questions, the comptroller contended that the university "is justly entitled to what tax exemptions it has on its class room buildings and campus, because it is educating students for the state of Indiana and elsewhere at no cost to the state for tax appropriations to conduct its business. The university already pays annual taxes on all income producing real estate that it holds."
Each student also receives a "scholarship" of $165 from the university endowment above their tuition, Brooks added.

Are You Discriminating—

We think you are—girls don't patronize the nearest dress shop and men usually buy their clothing where they get the type of things they want.

So . . . we've provided our clients with a roomy, well-lighted, acoustically treated banking room for their convenience. Like many cars—banks are different under the hood—yes,—for your protection and convenience, every type of modern equipment is used to make out service to you as neat, as correct and fast as it is humanly and mechanically possible to do. If you would like to see—we'd like to show you what makes this bank different. Are you discriminating? We think you are—and we think you'll want to and will enjoy doing business here.

Caterpillar Tractor Company's recently-completed building LL at Peoria, Ill., with 850,000 sq. ft. of floor space, makes a total under-roof area of 118 acres devoted to the production of Caterpillar's world-famous line of earth-moving equipment. In great factories like this, quality construction is recognized as being prime requisite of quality production—so it is significant that Lone Star Cement produced at Lone Star's Greencastle mill was used throughout.

Lone Star Cements cover the entire construction field: LONE STAR PORTLAND CEMENT for strong, durable concrete in all types of work . . . 'INCOR'* 24-HOUR CEMENT for top-speed construction with 50% less forms and important winter economies . . . LONE STAR AIR-ENTRAINING CEMENT for highway work and other uses . . . LONE STAR MASONRY CEMENT for quality masonry.

In the years ahead, please keep these Cements in mind—and accept the sincere good wishes of the folks who make them.

MEMORIAL STUDENT UNION BUILDING

CONGRATULATIONS DEPAUW

This fine new edifice will lend both grace and beauty to the grand old DePauw campus, so dear to the memories of thousands of alumni. May their hearts beat just a little faster and may their smiles be just a little broader as they point with pride to the realization of this dream of many years.

To the new students, this building is a most tangible asset. It fills a myriad of urgent needs in the existence of a modern university. It has a very real and a most important bearing on the way of life of every undergraduate.

To the old grads, this building is even more important because it serves as a living reminder of the spirit of unselfish sacrifice which has made DePauw great down through the years. The accomplishment of this latest goal marks another milestone in the tradition that is DePauw.

May this fine building take its place along with the cherished landmarks of the campus in the hearts of many future generations of the family of old DePauw, as well as serving the useful purposes for which it was built.

THIS IS THE MIRAGE IN NINETEEN-FIFTY

A student yearbook is the record of a year. In this 1950 edition of the Mirage we have attempted to represent life at DePauw University as it actually is—to mirror insofar as possible every aspect of the school: campus, buildings, classes, administration, faculty, students, organizations, traditions, and the intangibles which arise from the interaction of these various parts of DePauw.

The Mirage is a publishing venture consisting this year of 312 pages, 267 of them with a second color, and 354 engravings depicting 1968 persons. Issued under the auspices of the Board of Control of Student Publications, it is a $14,000 commercial enterprise planned and directed by students.

The production of a book such as this involves a fair knowledge of at least fifteen different fields: art, layout, photography, photoengraving, cover manufacture, copy writing, printing, proof reading, binding, budgeting, cost control, sales, advertising, office management, and public relations. Nor does the magnitude of the work exceed the degree of responsibility of the student staff.

Obviously no editor and business manager could hope to perform such a herculean task alone. To the many persons who have given time and effort to make the Mirage a reality we express our sincere gratitude and appreciation:

To Prof. W. C. Arnold for the counsel and guidance gleaned from twenty-five years of experience with DePauw's student publications;

To Miss Helen A. Leon, adviser to the editorial staff;

To the members of the publications board for their constant support and encouragement;

To Mr. K. G. Cooley and Mr. Jack Bundy of the S. K. Smith Company for their help in designing and producing the cover of the book;

To Mr. A. G. Hutton of Photo Art Commercial Studio for his cooperation on the individual portrait and beauty queen photography;

To Mr. F. J. Noer of the Indianapolis Engraving Company for his unceasing diligence in matters relating to the engraving production;

To Mr. O. D. Rogers of the Rogers Printing Company for his willingness to guide us through the complexities of printing and binding;

To Jack Baker and the Publications Photo Service for sacrificing time to do the bulk of the photographic work;

To the elected staff members for their readiness to go beyond the bounds of their duties when the occasion demanded;

To the unrecognized staff workers who performed well the multitude of routine labors connected with yearbook production;

And to the members of the administration, faculty, and student body who gave their personal cooperation and financial support.

The territory covered by the Mirage is large and full of pitfalls into which we may have landed unawares. But we are consoled by the reflection that the book will be in the hands of persons whose knowledge will serve to correct possible errors in mechanics, fact, or judgment.
